Map 9 Crevasse begins the long, dark plummet down into the mountain.

The room is a death trap that you need to cross. To the right, follow the stairs and pick up the keycard. Then come back down and insert it into the box on the left. This will turn the bridge so you can cross over.

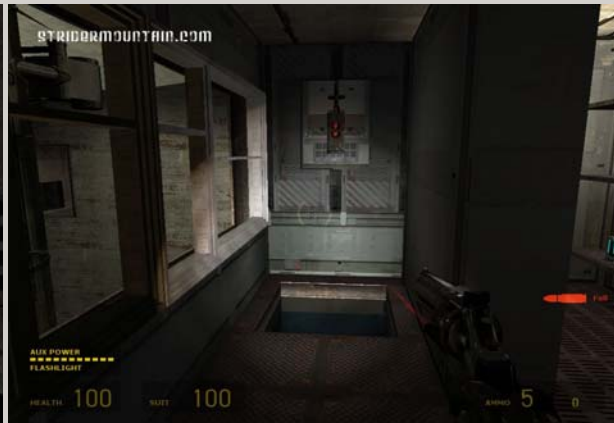

As you exit the big room, look for this button on the right to open to door. The industrial starts to drag you along for the ride. Look for this vent as an exit.

Use this button to open the door on the right. And then use the button to get out of this room.

The exit out of this wind tunnel is the ladder on the right. Then use this button to shut off the fans and climb down the shaft below.

Climb down the stairs to the huge fan room. Once you get down, there are some manhacks. The exit is through the door on the right corner. The fence on the left side is the way out of this room.

Look for the room on the right. It has ammo and the lever that opens the door where the EE is located. The EASTER EGG is found by pressing the lever, then use the pipes to climb up into the open shaft.

Enter this room and be prepared for some combine. And then more at this stairwell. Keep going down to the depths of Strider Mountain..
